

Room Narrative Examples

Computer Room/Study Area (637.5 square feet): The computer room/study area will be located on the second floor of the Building. It will be used exclusively to enable students to use computers to assist in their educational experience and for individual and group study projects. One wall of the computer room/study area will be equipped with computers and workstations and other equipment that permit connections to University computer facilities and the internet. The room will also be furnished with study tables, chairs and light fixtures suitable for use by the students for individual and group study. The Chapter will not conduct any non-educational events or fraternal meetings in the computer room (other than minor social or recreational use).

Group Study Room (230 total square feet): The group study room will be used exclusively for individual study and group study projects. The group study room will be furnished with tables and chairs suitable for group study projects. The group study room may be wired to support personal computer work stations and wired and cabled to provide Internet connections. The group study room may also be connected to a network providing access to a printer and other remote peripherals located in other locations in the Building. The Chapter will not conduct any non-educational events or fraternal meetings in the group study room (other than minor social or recreational use).

Individual Study Room (155 square feet): The individual study room will be used exclusively as an area for students to study individually or in a small group sessions. It will also serve as an area for small meetings or presentations to aid students in developing speaking and presentation skills. It will be equipped with tables and chairs suitable for individual and small group study. The individual study room may be wired to support personal computer work stations and wired and cabled to provide Internet connections. The Chapter will not conduct any non-educational events or fraternal meetings in the library (other than minor social or recreational use).

Computer Room (240 square feet): The computer room will be used exclusively to enable students to use computers to assist in their educational experience. The computer room may be equipped with computers and workstations and other equipment that will permit connections to other rooms in the Building, University computer facilities, and the Internet. The Chapter will not conduct any non-educational events or fraternal meetings in the computer room (other than minor social or recreational use).

Second Individual Study (120 square feet): The second individual study will be used exclusively to provide a setting for quiet, individual study. It will be furnished with a desk or table and chairs. It may also be wired to support personal computer work stations and wired and cabled to provide internet connections. The Chapter will not conduct any non-educational events or fraternal meetings in the classroom (other than minor social or recreational use).

Dedicated Study Area (543 square feet): The Dedicated Study Area is located on the upper level of the Building. It will be furnished with a conference table and chairs, individual study desk and chairs with computers at each such desk. The Dedicated Study Area will be used exclusively as a study area (except for minor social or recreational use).

Library (504 square feet): The Library will be located on the main level. It will be furnished with a conference table and chairs and folding chairs and an upright piano. The Library will hold a collection of general reading materials. It will be used exclusively as a library and study area for students (except for minor social or recreational use).

Library Annex (191 square feet): The Library Annex will be located on the main level. It will be furnished with chairs and will house the Chapter's collection of reference materials and periodicals. It will be used exclusively as a study area for students (except for minor social or recreational use).

Leadership Training and Study Hall (1,220 square feet): The Leadership Training and Study Hall is located on the upper level of the Building. It will be furnished with a conference table and chairs, audio-visual equipment, podium and computer network connections and will be used exclusively for leadership training programs and as a study area (except for minor social or recreational use).

Individual Study Rooms (3,946 square feet): These rooms are used exclusively as an area for students to study in a quiet environment. Each room is furnished with a built in desk, a chair and shelving (all of which is and will remain the property of the Corporation). The rooms will also have wiring installed to support computer access to the University mainframe and network and to access the Internet.